Metal Shipping Racks

Effective as of 2023, we are no longer charging for the use of our metal shipping racks, however, it is the customers responsibility to cover the cost of returning the racks to our facility as soon as possible. If any racks / parts of racks are missing or returned damaged, the customer will be billed for the repair / replacement. All racks are to be returned before November 30th.

In the instance that the customer has plant material to ship to our yard (on our racks), we will cover the cost of the spatial percentage of the shipment that our order takes up, and the rest of the shipment will be covered by the customer.

All trays have a deposit that is refunded to the customer upon return. All trays must be returned at customer's expense.

60 Day Order Policy

All orders adhere to a 60 day policy. Any orders that have not been picked up / shipped within 60 days will be cancelled. Upon cancellation, all future orders will require a 25% non-refundable deposit.

Orders placed in the fall for spring pick up or shipment are exempt from the 60 day deadline, however, these orders must be picked up or shipped by the end of May.
